

FIGURE 1. SEM mapping of a representative natural siderite crystal showing that the four main components Fe, Mn, Mg, and Ca are all homogeneously distributed within the crystal. At the upper side of the crystal some dirt is found. The stripes are caused by polishing of the crystal.